DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES

NOTIFICATION

The 4th June 2016

SUBJECT—Phasing/Rephasing of Industrial water allocation etc.

No. 13233—Irr.-II-WRC-31/2016-WR.—Government of Odisha is committed for rapid industrialisation which will increase opportunities of employment as well as increase in GDP of the State. As a part of its endeavor, industries are allowed to draw water from public sources, both surface and groundwater for a certain period. During the period of construction industries are allowed to draw groundwater on the basis of the recommendations of District Level Evaluation Committee (DLEC) under the Chairmanship of Collector and on obtaining No Objection Certificate (NoC) from Central Groundwater Board (CGWB). For operation of the industries / plants similarly water is allocated to industries. It is a general practice that the first allocation of operational water is normally given for a period of 3 years during which period the industries are expected to start commercial production. However, due to various reasons, sometimes, beyond the control of industries the plants are not able to complete their construction and go to operation phase within this period. Besides, during the initial period of water allocation the entire quantity of allocated water is not drawn by industries in the initial phase. Further, Government does not get any revenue on the unutilized quantity of water allocated to an industry. For considering revalidation or phasing or rephasing industrial water there is no uniform guidelines prescribed. The uniform guideline on allocation, revalidation and phasing/rephasing of allocated water was under active consideration of Government for sometime. After careful consideration Government have been pleased to decide as follows :

1. Allocation period :

- (a) The industries shall apply initially for allocation of water for both construction and operation purpose separately in Form-"J" to Department of Water Resources enclosing all necessary documents indicating the period of construction and likely period in which operation of the industries/plants to start.

- (b) The sources of water for allocation during construction period, whether surface or groundwater must be clearly mentioned in the application by industries proportionately.
- (c) If ground water is required for construction the recommendation of District Level Evaluation Committee (DLEC) and No Objection Certificate (NoC) from Central Groundwater Board (CGWB) must be obtained and attached to the application.
- (d) Construction water shall ordinarily be allocated for a period of six months. However, depending on construction status, the said period can be renewed on payment of appropriate charges as per rule.
- (e) For allocation of operational water the concerned industry shall apply to DoWR indicating quantity and allocation period along with recommendations of IPICOL/appropriate authority for consideration.
- (f) The initial allocation of water shall be for a period of 3 years for Micro, Small & Medium Enterprises (MSME) and 5 years for large industries.
- (g) On completion of the period, if any water that has not been used shall be deallocated automatically. No further correspondence on deallocation shall be considered unless request for extension/ revalidation is received in DoWR with supporting recommendation from IPICOL /SLSWCA prior to 3 months of expiry of the allocation.

2. Extension/Revalidation/Rephasing :

- (a) In case, the industry concerned needs the allocation of water to be revalidated or modified the request for the same shall be submitted to DoWR before 3 months' of expiry of the agreement as per rule along with necessary fees in the prescribed format duly recommended by IPICOL as per procedure mentioned above.
- (b) The maximum period of revalidation shall not exceed 2 years in case of MSME and 3 years in case of large industries based on the recommendations of IPICOL and / or SLSWCA.
- (c) During this period the industry shall utilise the allocated water. Ordinarily, no extension of water allocation shall be entertained beyond this period excepting in case of exceptional circumstances where revalidation beyond the above maximum allowable period of 3+2 years for MSME and 5+3 years for large industries may be considered only on the basis of recommendations of SLSWCA.
- (d) During the extension period beyond the initial allocation period of 3 years for MSME and 5 years for large industries the concerned industry shall have to pay commitment charges as prescribed below.

3. Commitment charges :

During the period of allocation for operational water, the industries are expected to consume the full quantity of water allocated. However, if the industry is not able to consume full quantity of operational water shall have to pay commitment charge which is equivalent to 5% of the cost of unutilized water (Allocated quantity – quantity of water utilized) in addition to payment of usual water rate for quantity of water being utilized as per the rule. The date of levy of commitment charge shall be from the date of initial agreement for operational water.

Any clarification regarding this circular shall be issued by Government in DoWR

The Resolution shall come into force from its date of issue.
